

Dear Mr Nurken Halykbergen,

On behalf of the World Toilet Organization, I'd like to congratulate you for joining the prestigious World Toilet Hall of Fame with this award for 2025.

As you might know, this award is the highest honor given by the World Toilet Organization on the UN World Toilet Day each year to champions of global sanitation in their respective country and beyond.

Past laureates include the UN Deputy Secretary-General Miss Amina J Mohd, the former UN Deputy Secretary-General Mr Jan Eliasson, Dr Bindeshwar Pathak, President Muhammadu Buhari of Nigeria, Doulaye Kone of the Gates Foundation, and many others who have dedicated their service to improve the sanitation conditions and hygiene for the people.

Your continuous work as a champion for toilets in Kazakhstan will bring new awareness and positive attitude to prioritize the quality of life of Kazaks.

If possible, we'd like Astana to host a World Toilet Summit in the future. This would be a groundbreaking event as the first World Toilet Summit in Central Asia.

We look forward to many years of close cooperation with you and Kazakhstan.

Best,

Jack Sim, Founder,
World Toilet Organization, Singapore
