
INFORMATION LETTER

Dear Colleagues,

Miras University (Republic of Kazakhstan), in cooperation with Sakarya University (Republic of Türkiye) and the Turkish World Research Foundation, cordially invites scholars, academics, researchers, and practitioners to participate in the International Turkish World Social Sciences Congress (Uluslararası Türk Dünyası Sosyal Bilimler Kongresi), which will be held on September 16–18, 2026, in Shymkent, Republic of Kazakhstan.

The Congress aims to promote international scientific cooperation, strengthen academic ties among scholars from the countries of the Turkish World and Europe, and discuss current challenges and future prospects in the field of social sciences.

The International Turkish World Social Sciences Congress (ITWSSC) is an international academic event organized annually since 2003 with the purpose of fostering cooperation in academic, social, economic, and educational fields throughout the Turkish World. Held each year in one of the historical, cultural, and economic centers of the Turkish World, the Congress features presentations and discussions covering a wide range of social science disciplines. The 24th Congress will be hosted by Miras University and will offer both in-person and online participation.

The deadline for paper submission and participant registration is August 30, 2026.

Detailed information regarding the Congress themes, paper formatting requirements, registration fees, and other organizational matters is available on the official Congress website: www.turkkongre.com

Official languages of the Congress:

- Kazakh;
- Turkish (Türkiye Turkish);
- Other Turkic languages;
- English.

All accepted and presented papers will be published in the electronic Congress Proceedings with an assigned ISBN. Every submitted manuscript undergoes a scientific evaluation process and double-blind peer review conducted by experts in the relevant academic fields.

Registration, account creation, and paper submission are available through the official Congress website: www.turkkongre.com

The Organizing Committee warmly invites all interested researchers to participate in the International Turkish World Social Sciences Congress and contribute to the development of scientific cooperation among the countries of the Turkish World.
